Lessons from a Deaf and Blind Woman

By Derek Ledda, Council Chair

Greetings Fellow Lions, Lionesses, and Leos,

As I began this New Year, I was given the very special opportunity to reflect on what it means to be a Lion and found myself guided by the insights of Helen Keller to whom the Lions of the world made the profound commitment 89 years ago to serve as her Knights of the Blind in the crusade against darkness.

Having visited "Matteo's Dream" last year which Lions built so that children of all abilities could have a recreation park in which to play and then attending the Rose Parade in Pasadena where I watched Lions and Leos so painstakingly build a Lions float as a tribute to the persistence, passion and love that Matteo's Mom and the Crockett and other local Lions Clubs had in fulfilling the very special dream of that special little boy, I was reminded of Helen Keller, another person with special needs and a special dream, who could easily have had "Matteo's Dream" in mind when she said "When we do the best that we can, we never know what miracle is wrought in our life, or in the life of another."

I continue to be inspired by Lions here and everywhere who, in striving to do their very best in serving others, are making miracles happen, whether it's by eliminating river blindness, planting over 14 million trees, overcoming childhood and adult illiteracy and by providing help and hope to hundreds of thousands of desperately needy survivors of devastating disasters in places like Haiti, New Orleans, Fukushima, Japan, the northeast corner of the United States and most recently Leyte and Samar Islands in the Philippines where Hurricane Haiyan left 10,000 dead and countless many more still without food, water, shelter medical treatment, fuel and a livelihood.

I know that we are driven by what Helen Keller also said, that "Although the world is full of suffering, it is full also of the overcoming of it."

Time and time again, whether it's through the smaller projects that our clubs and individual Lions have undertaken or the worldwide projects of Lions Clubs International, Lions are up to the task of successfully meeting every challenge we face in easing the pain and suffering of others wherever we may find it. Sometimes we may find the task daunting, especially if it is a project that we've never tried before, and we need to be reminded that we are capable of accomplishing anything that is worthwhile to which we set our minds.

I'm grateful for the reminders that Helen Keller has given us that "Optimism is the faith that leads to achievement. Nothing can be done without hope and confidence," and that "No pessimist ever discovered the secret of the stars or sailed an uncharted land, or opened a new doorway for the human spirit."

And when the naysayers try to chip away at your confidence and tell you that your idea has never been tried before and can't work or that it's too much work or there are too many problems with trying what you have in mind, share with them what Helen Keller said, that "The only thing worse than being blind is having sight but no vision," and then remember what she also said that "While they were saying among themselves it cannot be done, it was done."

Fellow Lions, Lionesses, and Leos, we face many challenges ahead but I don't doubt our capacity to serve the neediest of our brothers and sisters in extraordinary ways. The question we must still answer is whether we are equally committed to finding the many more new members with the additional hands we need to do all that is asked of us to change people's lives for the better or to even save lives. The goals we have in service are too important for us to accept that they can't be accomplished because we don't have enough Lions to do the job. Our attitude should be as Helen Keller said, "It is for us to pray not for tasks equal to our powers, but for powers equal to our tasks, to go forward with a great desire forever beating at the door of our hearts as we travel toward our distant goal."

I ask every one of you and every club to make a personal commitment to giving the gift of becoming a Lion to all the service-minded people you know who will in turn give us the power to meet every challenge we face in alleviating the suffering of the many needy people in our local neighborhoods and around the world.

I leave you with the words of our International President Barry Palmer, with whom I had the pleasure of discussing many of my personal project goals. His response was simple, "Go for it!" So, I say the same to you, who face the challenges and possible doubts about doing more service and finding more hands to serve, just "Go for it!" Thank you Lions, Lionesses and Leos for all you do.

Message from International Director Larry Dicus

First, I'm pleased to congratulate our Multiple District for being positive in net membership growth year to date. It is impressive that ten of our fifteen district leadership teams received Dream Achiever awards for the second quarter. This is a great accomplishment!!

As I visit districts and participate in their conventions, I've observed one common trait that separates the healthy growing districts from the struggling ones. The difference is Teamwork. I joined a Toastmasters club last year to help me improve my speaking skills. In the October Toastmasters magazine, their International President shared the following thoughts about Team-building. Please read this and assure as you finish this year and begin planning for next year, that the leaders in your district are using these principles - 'the three 'C's.

The 3 C's of Team-building by George Yen, International President, Toastmasters

When I started attending International Conventions as the spouse of a district and area governor about a dozen years ago, I noticed the interactions of district leaders. Some leaders stick together like glue, while others go their own separate ways, barely talking to each other. In the years since joining the Board in 2006, I realized that the manner in which the top three district officers interact with one another is a fairly good indicator of the quality of teamwork among them, and in turn, a predictor of their district's success in the year ahead.

If leadership is about influencing others to achieve a common goal, then the first task is to build a team, or as the 2012 Golden Gavel recipient John C. Maxwell said, "From me to we." To get to the "we" requires the three C's:

- Communication. For an organization dedicated to communication and leadership, it is ironic that members of a district leadership "team" at times fail to communicate with one another, especially on important things like goal setting, strategy and decision making. Communication is the basic ingredient for establishing essential trust, which in turn empowers the team to be successful.
- Collaboration. Only with communication can there be collaboration, which is what makes members function as a team. For a leader to gain the collaboration of the team members, he or she needs to have an open heart and mind. We need to overcome the all too human attachment to being right. This would mean putting aside our ego and being willing to be wrong.
- Commitment. Once a team has communication and collaboration, it can get the commitment of its members to move toward a shared vision and goal. An individual's power is raised exponentially with the help of a team. When a district member sees the 3 C's in their leadership team, they are inspired to emulate the behavior of those leaders and give them their support.

Whether you are a club or district leader, Toastmasters is a great practice field for leadership. Since you aren't giving Toastmasters members a job or a paycheck, they follow you only because they choose to. As you exercise this purest form of leadership, look around to see if you are empowering or disempowering your team.

Please work together to assure that these Teamwork principles are in place in your district.

Yours in service,
Larry Dicus, International Director

How to Turn Your Lions Club from Good to Great "10 Tips"

By Chuck Cassy, MD4 GMT Coordinator

Doesn't every Lion want their Club to be better? The following are a few tips that I've observed that allow our Clubs to improve:

1. Talk to each other. Members don't talk about ways to improve their Club. How about a Retreat or just time away from meetings to discuss improvement? How about using the CEP Process?
2. Clubs don't plan. To be successful, shouldn't goals be set for the year and a plan implemented to reach those goals? This is especially true with increasing your membership. Set a goal and find ways to reach them.
3. Does your Club have a signature project? Lions is attractive to our community when there is a project that everyone knows that's a Lions project. It needs to be one that makes an impact on your community.
4. Are you having fun? When Lions are together, it should be fun. Are there strong friendships in your Club? Do you have sufficient social interaction?
5. Do you promote your Club at your activities and projects? A brag board with your accomplishments or even a flyer lets the community know what you do. This will make your Club attractive to potential members.
6. Are your meetings the kind you like to attend? If you're a prospective member, would you enjoy your meeting? If not, change it.
7. Is the Club prepared to make new Lions welcome and to find out what they want from Lions and to give it to them?

8. Lions say they want younger members. Is your Club willing to make changes to be attractive to younger members? Can you make your Club family-friendly and give up some traditions that don't appeal to younger people?

9. Is your Club developing leadership and expanding the horizons and growth of members? Lions offer terrific leadership training at the District, MD4 and International levels. Get your Leadership to go to it and improve (things like the MD4 Leadership Institute). Visit other Clubs and find out how they do things. Take improvements back to your Club. Make new friends and relationships in those Clubs. They will prove to be invaluable.

10. Does your Club give meaningful recognition and awards to your members? Other than friendship, this is the only pay volunteer Lions get. Just saying "thank you" email, a note makes us all feel valued. Recognize a Lion of the Month, Lion of the Year, etc. But, do something to make your Lions feel good about being in your Club.

These 10 are, of course, not complete or enough to make your Club a perfect Club, but I bet if you try a few, you'll like the changes in your Club.

A reminder that the GMT and GLT Teams are here for only one reason - to help your Clubs become great.

IT'S A GREAT DAY TO BE A LION!

Lead, Follow or....

By PDG Chris Morris, MD-4 GLT Coordinator

When I was a teenager my dad gave me the short course in leadership. It was straight from General George Patton, "Lead, follow or get the hell out of the way." I have tried to follow the advice over the years and have discovered that the issue is often which mode are you in and at what time.

As we go through Lions and life, our roles change over time. As a Cabinet Secretary and as a Vice District Governor my place was as a follower and support troop. As a Governor it was my turn to lead. As the Global Leadership Team Coordinator it has been my pleasure to lead a great team. After this I will go into a mode where someone else will lead and it will be my role to help, advise and let someone else lead.

This is an extremely difficult transition for some of our leaders to make when they are no longer in charge and expected to be a supporter. For those who have a real problem making the transition; it may be best for them to just step aside for a while and get the hell out of the way. This is no different from a Club President once their year is over.

Do you know someone who cannot let go?

Many of us in leadership positions at the district or multiple district have different positions in our clubs. It is a big shock for some Past District Governors to go back to their club and find out that nobody really cares about their former exalted position or what they did last year. The big question is usually "Did you forget how to flip pancakes?" or "Do you still know how to work?"

I know one PDG who has been in three different clubs since going out of office and is now on to his fourth. Nobody seems to care who he once was or why he thinks he is so special. Probably the best advice I can give to anyone who is going out of an office is to get involved again at the club level or with a Lions project.

Lions need the experience of the PDGs, Past Presidents, Secretaries and other leaders. We need mentors for upcoming leaders. We need trainers. Our projects always need talented people to serve. Some of these jobs are in leadership. Many more times we can help as advisors to the people behind us. Mentoring is part of leadership.

One real need that exists in most districts is for folks who will be on the lookout for future leadership and encourage newer people to step up, to get training and to help them along the way. In some districts this is done by the PDGs. In other districts there is no culture of the PDGs helping encourage new leaders. That is sad.

All leaders from Club President to Council Chair need to figure out what they are going to do when they go out of office. Please figure out what you are going to do next year and how you can help other Lions. Be one of those who leads or follows, not the person who can't let go and is asked to get out of the way.

"Giving is Good!"

by PCC Roger Powell, LCIF Coordinator

Lions Clubs International FOUNDATION

We are more than halfway through our Lions year, and giving is indeed good! We are well on our way to achieving our goal of $500,000 from MD4 for 2013-14.

Thank you for that!

Spring Is a Good Time For Melvin Jones Awards

As we enter springtime, it's a time for clubs and districts to reward those who have given outstanding service. What better way to thank these Lions than to present them with a Melvin Jones Fellowship or a contribution toward a Progressive Melvin Jones? These are lasting gifts that will long be remembered. To maximize the recognition of these awards, it's an excellent idea to present them at district conventions and/or club installations.

Participation Needs Improvement

In the first half of the year I have traveled to several District meetings and made presentations at MD4 meetings and at the convention to spread the word about giving to LCIF. An important need is to raise the involvement of our members and clubs in donations to the Foundation. In 2012-13 less than 40% of our clubs and members gave to LCIF. This means that not a single person in 60% of our clubs has made a donation! Think of how much more we could do by increasing participation just to 50%!

Contributing Membership Is an Option

With all of the emphasis we place on the Melvin Jones Fellowship option, another way to give is often overlooked. This is the "Contributing Membership," an annual program that recognizes three levels of support: $20, $50, and $100. While these donations are not eligible for Melvin Jones Fellowships, they are recognized with bronze, silver, and gold pins for each level of support, and clubs are awarded a 100 percent Member Support banner patch and chevron for the first year of 100 percent Contributing Membership. This is a good way to get members started on contributing. For more information go to lcif.org and access "Ways to Give."

LCIF Is YOUR Charity

Remember, LCIF is YOUR charity, and the funds generated are returned in the form of grants to district and club projects. Disaster relief is, of course, also a major recipient of donations worldwide. Thank you again, all who have participated and continue to give to LCIF programs. Giving truly is good!

Lions Rose Parade Float 2014

by Lion Larry Dicus, International Director

I'm pleased to share that our Lions Rose Parade Float 'Lions Built Matteo's Dream' was awarded the Tournament Special Trophy for exceptional merit in multiple classifications at the Pasadena Tournament of Roses on Wednesday. This is our first award since 1993!

Congratulations to Lions Float Committee President Lion PDG Norm MacKenzie and the entire Lions Float Committee for this achievement. Lion International President Barry J. Palmer and First Lady Anne were on the float greeting the hundreds of thousands of people along the parade route. Lion Liz Lamach and several other builders and supporters of the park in Concord also rode on the float.

The most important part of our Rose Parade entry is the story our float tells this year. It is the story how one Lion 'Lion Liz Lamach' followed her dream and worked with Lions to make her dream come true! The title of the float is 'Lions Built Matteo's Dream Park'. It is a replica of the park built by Lions in Northern California for children of all abilities. Over 2,000 Lions from more than 43 clubs worked together to help make the dream of Lion Liz Lamach come true! She is truly a Lion who 'Followed her dream!'

Please review the story behind our Lions float by clicking on the video below.

Please help us share this outstanding story about what Lions can do!

Thank you for being a Lion!! I encourage you to invite friends, associates, or family members to also become a Lion and enjoy the experience of 'making a difference' in your community.

Student Speaker Contest

by Garrett Becker, Chairperson

Greetings Lions,

Happy New Year to all! Another year has passed and 2014 is in front of us. I'm excited about the new year for many reasons, one of which is the Student Speakers Contest.

This year's topic, "Community Service - What Does It Mean and Why Does It Matter?" is provocative and challenging, which should result in a very exciting contest.

Club contests are beginning with zone soon to follow. As a reminder, the contest dates are:

- Club level - on or before February 23, 2014
- Zone level - on or before March 16, 2014
- Region level - on or before April 6, 2014
- District level - on or before May 4, 2014
- Area contest - on or before June 1, 2014
- MD-4 final contest - June 7, 2014, Pasadena Hilton, Pasadena CA

Remember, clubs cannot hold a contest if their MD-4 dues are not current.

No doubt many issues and conflicts will arise this year as they have in the past. I am here, as are all of the Student Speaker Committee members, to help resolve problems. So don't hesitate to contact us if you need to do so. Our contact information is listed on page 27 of the handbook. But, remember, the handbook is the contest guideline and clearly states the rules and requirements for a contest.

Sooo, my rant this year, read the handbook!!!

Even if you have read it many times before, there is much to remember and there are changes as there are every year. I am from northern California - Linden - so I don't have many contacts in southern California, particularly the Pasadena area. If you know of anyone who would like to assist me with the final contest, particularly judges, please pass along their contact information or have them get in touch with me. In advance, thank you for your help.

California Lions Friends in Sight

By Larry Williams, Co-Chairman District 4L4 Eyeglass Collection Project

In the second quarter of the 2013/14 Lion year the California Lions Friends in Sight Vision Screening Team traveled to nine sites. In these sites, they served the vision needs of 2,848 individuals with 90% of them leaving with vision improving recycled eyeglasses. The top two vision screenings done, during the quarter, was where the Team was able to serve the vision needs of over 416 individuals in Oxnard then on down close to the Mexican border in Imperial where in a day and a half the Team was able see over 700 individuals with 672 of them leaving with their vision improving recycled eyeglasses.

This brings the CLFIS Vision Screening Teams year-to-date- numbers up to 5,362 individuals seen versus only 4,572 over the same period last year. If this year's numbers continue to grow at the same rate, this year's total will be 10,724 or a 6% increase over last year's 9,526 which is coming off a 36% increase in individuals seen totally last fiscal Lions year.

As has been pointed out before, the Team could not provide these vision screenings without the help of the many volunteers that come to help. This first half of the year the CLFIS Vision Screening Team had 755 volunteers working right along beside them in the 17 vision screenings done this fiscal year. These volunteers came from 45 different Lions Clubs representing numerous MD4 Districts across central and Southern California, and including several Leo clubs and many outside organizations and non-Lions.

If you would like to help during the second half of this fiscal year go to the CLFIS website: californialionsfriendsinsight.org to see the upcoming schedule of vision screenings. The CLFIS Vision Screening Team needs many more volunteers to continue to maintain the same excellent services. So when they are in your area come out and volunteer your help.

A big thank you again goes out to all the Lions Clubs who continue their financial and volunteer support of these California Lions Friends in Sight vision screenings.

Multiple District Office

by Cass Cara, Office Manager

Greetings MD-4 Lions,

Your MD-4 office is in good health, orderly and the outside plantings are flourishing in this beautiful Santa Barbara climate -- what a privilege it is to have a state office. I am honored to work here. The office was built in 1955 and the staff moved in on July 30; perhaps next year we should celebrate its 60th birthday.

Groundbreaking

Half a year has passed since the 2013-2014 year started; the councils came back from Germany (all accounted for), the 2nd VDGs have settled into their new responsibilities, the Peace Poster and Essay Contest was a success, the holiday season passed, I took a vacation to visit family at the frigid New England coast, and the clubs are revving up for their level in the annual Student Speakers Contest.

Speaking of the Student Speakers contest, any leftover contest materials will be brought to the MD-4 convention for distribution on February

Office Construction 1955

12-16th. Good luck and we look forward to seeing the final contestants in Pasadena. Please try to order your club packets online early for next year's contest--even if you're not sure the club will hold a contest. It is more efficient and cost effective to send the packets out at the group rate than to send them individually later in the year.

The third Council of Governors meeting and the MD-4 Convention are upon us; I hope everyone has registered. MD-4 is nothing without you. Regardless of your individual club affiliation, you are all MD-4 Lions, too.

Now for some sour with the sweet: In order to hold a Student Speakers Contest or vote as a delegate at the convention, clubs must be in good standing. Statements of delinquent dues have just been mailed and the governors are tasked with the tiring and burdensome responsibility of collecting. We thank all those who pay the bill promptly and encourage those who don't to seek assistance on their financial matters; the districts and MD-4 rely on these dues to function. MD-4 and your district have many committees and leaders who can help; just ask.

Don't forget, your California taxes must be filed regardless of how much money has been raised...they changed the rules a couple of years ago. If a club turns in its charter, not only is that a sad day for all, but the state of California and federal IRS should be notified so they can take the club off their records.

January -June invoices will be mailed out to the club treasurers in February, along with any notifications or announcements on MD-4 happenings. The governor's executive committee has access to these as well. Please make sure your contact information with Lions Clubs International (LCI) is correct and that the new officers are recorded there. That is where I get the data I use to reach out to you, and if it is missing or incorrect, the invoices and announcements will not make it to the club.

Check the MD-4 website often to stay updated. www.md4lions.org. One day, not yet, I hope to have the invoices online for your ease. Wish me luck.
